President's Corner by Kim Lund

I recently attended the New Member Coffee that Cheryl Murray and Mary Chickering do such a phenomenal job of hosting. Sitting in the front of the room listening to our newest and prospective members introduce themselves and share their life situations, I thought back to my New Member Coffee just two years ago when I walked into that very room not recognizing a single face.

Having moved to Madison freshly retired as an empty nester and with no job here, I had been floundering and desperately wondering what kind of a life I could make for myself. I was alone and lonely, and for me this organization changed my life. Some of our guests mentioned how impressed they were with the level of organization and professionalism they'd observed. I remember thinking that same thing. Others talked about taking on "jobettes" (to quote Judy Florey) just to make connections and make some friends; I did that too. Now, I'm preparing to leave our Madison home and more friends than I have ever had. I don't mean acquaintances; I mean dear women who I love and with whom I will always remain in close contact. And that my friends, is what Who's New does best of all—it gives us the tremendous gift of each other and makes our lives richer and fuller in the arms of this caring, supportive, and vibrant community.

As we continue to flirt with spring's arrival and begin to see rebirth and new growth, I'm going to make time to reflect on what needs pruning and composting in my life. I will focus on recognizing the positive, being slow to anger and quick to forgive, assume that everyone is acting with the best of intentions, and be the first to apologize. I will do these things for my own growth and health because like all of the bulbs, perennials, bushes and trees in my tiny yard, I too want to flourish.

Next Luncheon

We do not have luncheons planned for June, July or August.
Please join us on September 14th for our kickoff luncheon and program for the 2017-2018 season.

Many thanks to Debbie and Steve Wise for hosting an amazingly attended Not Just Wine and Cheese (NJW&C); many of us were especially appreciative of the campfire and s'mores. Thanks in advance to Caitlin and John Stolle for opening their home for the May 19th and final NJW&C of the season.

Our departing Board has served us well and is deserving of our deep gratitude and praise. These women make Who's New run like a finely honed machine. Please offer your thanks, and better yet, volunteer to serve next year!

Monica Myers is retiring after ten years of service from the Board and will no longer be Editor of our newsletter. She labored hard each month to provide us with a beautifully designed and thoughtfully planned publication and is certainly deserving of our appreciation. Liz Freitick has been working with Monica and will be our new Editor. Please offer Liz your thanks and support and expect some changes in the appearance and contents of the newsletter as she exercises her artistic and creative talents.

If all goes according to plan, this will be my first and last President's Corner. I can't hope to find any organization that will fill Who's New gigantic shoes, but I'm sure going to try...

With heartfelt appreciation and fond memories of our times together, Kim

We have thoroughly enjoyed these past two years, sharing delightful meals with really wonderful people. Planning menus, sharing and testing recipes and cuisines, planning big and small events has been great fun. Pat Eaton, Stephanie Kissel, Susan Passmore and Debbie Wise have made the past two years successful. We have become foodie friends for life! With no one expressing interest in leading Gourmet next year, sadly the group will suspend activities in June after the Grand Finale.

We will have a guided tour of the prairie and will also be able to have lunch at the monastery after the tour. This is a rain or shine event.
